Terminologies and descriptions:

Direct discrimination occurs when a person is treated less favourable than another person because of a protected characteristic. Direct discrimination also includes discrimination because a person is wrongly thought to have a particular characteristic or is treated as if they do.

Indirect discrimination occurs where the effect of certain requirements, provisions or practices imposed by an organisation has an adverse impact disproportionately on one group or other. Indirect discrimination generally occurs when a rule or condition, which applied equally to everyone, can be met by a considerably smaller proportion of people from a particular group, the rule is to their advantage and it cannot be justified on other grounds.

Discrimination arising from disability occurs when a disabled person is treated unfavourable because of something connected with their disability and this unfavourable treatment cannot be justified. Treatment can be justified if it can be shown that it is intended to meet a legitimate objective in a fair, balanced, and reasonable way. If this can be shown, then the treatment can be lawful. This form of discrimination can occur only if the Club (or person from the Club) knows or can reasonably be expected to know that the disabled person is disabled.

Harassment can be described as inappropriate actions, behaviour, comments or physical contact, which may cause offence. i.e., mental, or physical anxiety or hurt to an individual. It may be related to gender, gender reassignment, and race, disability, sexuality, age, religion, nationality, or any personal characteristic as an individual.

Dignity is about respectful, fair, and humane behaviour, something that is reflected in the constitution. Prejudice is literally pre-judging someone. It is usually led by negative, irrational feelings, resulting from preconceived attitudes and opinions.

Social Exclusion is when people or areas suffer from one or a combination of linked problems such as unemployment, poor skills, low income, high crime environment or lack of facilities.
